

My Séance Experiences on July 3/4 July 2019

Table Séance (First Night):

After our briefing, we all gathered in the séance room. The cabinet area was examined by a sitter to ensure nothing extra was placed in the area. Each sitter was also carefully examined to ensure there were no electronics brought into the room. We were split into two groups and in each group, two sitters were assigned to hold the Medium's hand and rest their foot next to the Medium when a phenomena would begin to occur.

We all begin to sing and the table moved to the beat of the music as we thanked the spirits for joining us. The table moved in all directions with very powerful energy back and forth towards the sitters.

It was extremely hot and we all sang with lots of energy and love to build the energy. Blue lights flickered above and between and we witnessed the musical instruments moving around in cabinet. A drum flew across the sitters and landed in the middle of the table and a bell which hanged from the ceiling was dropped on the floor between the sitters. A chair landed on the table from across the back of the room as we thanked the spirits. Kai asked the spirits to levitate the table and it raised about 1 1/2 feet in mid-air. There were moments where the table turned completely sideways and on his command, it balanced back on all four legs. At one point, the table tilted sideways on one side and levitated in mid-air. Some of the sitters were asked if they could try pushing the table back down, but it was impossible. One sitter made an attempt to push the side of the table down that was levitating, but the table formed a bow like structure. A few times during the table séance, the legs of the table made its way under my legs and embraced me sideways with all four legs cornering me. It was a blissful feeling of being greeted by spirit.

The spirits levitated the musical instruments which floated in mid-air around the sitters. Kai then asked the spirit communicators to show their presence by knocking on the walls. The spirit communicators knocked on the walls all around the room as we thanked them for joining us.

Our last experiment was performed with the entire group of sitters. We were asked to stand up and hold hands which formed a group circle. We were instructed to imagine a water droplet hanging from the ceiling. We were asked to imagine this water droplet becoming larger and eventually falling from the ceiling. All of a sudden, a small Buddha figure fell from the ceiling onto the table in front of a sitter. She was given this Buddha figure as a gift from the spirit world.

As we approached the end of the séance, we all noticed the floor was covered with tiny puddles of water. With wet socks and drenched clothing, we all gathered back upstairs with excitement to share our experiences.
